FOREIGN DIRECT INVESTMENT

March 2002

1. INTRODUCTION

Orientation and content of the publication

This fourth edition of the annual publication Foreign Direct Investment provides an in-depth survey of foreign direct investment in the Czech Republic and domestic investment abroad. The aim of this publication is to help satisfy the growing demand for detailed information on this part of the balance of payments.

Foreign direct investment (FDI) is becoming one of the key indicators in quantifying and assessing the effect of globalisation on the world economy. Economic studies have demonstrated that direct investment fosters growth in efficiency, affects the employment rate, expands production capacities, promotes restructuring, generates export growth and ultimately contributes to GDP growth. FDI is considered particularly beneficial to developing economies, however the main share of the internationally invested capital still goes to the most advanced world economies.

Transition economies are a specific group competing for the maximum share of the international supply of investment capital. A nation's attractiveness to foreign investors is considered an indicator of the stability and soundness of its economy, and the volume of FDI inflow is one of the yardsticks of progress with economic reform. FDI is also significant because of the mass privatisation of state assets in the former command economies.

The main reasons for the need for reliable, comprehensive and up-to-date data on FDI can be summarised as follows:

- the significance of direct investment for the national economy,
- the special role of FDI inflows in transition economies,
- to indicate the nation's standing within the world economy,
- to improve the quality of data for the compilation of the nation's balance of payments,
- the requirements of international organisations regarding FDI data,
- the interconnection of the FDI statistics with other statistical systems (international trade in services, globalisation).

The growing demand for comparable, high-quality and up-to-date FDI data has prompted the introduction of joint EUROSTAT/OECD questionnaires on direct investment stocks, flows and income. Closely linked with the area of FDI reporting is the issue of quantifying the globalisation process as well as the international trade statistics in the services sector. In 1998, the CNB changed its FDI reporting methodology in order to harmonise the Czech FDI statistics with international standards. As from 1997, the reporting duty to international organisations in the area of FDI stocks has been met to the full extent for all required indicators. In 1999, the Czech Republic became one of the first OECD and IMF member countries to start submitting statistical data on foreign affiliate trade in services (FATS Statistics).

The publication Foreign Direct Investment consists of five sections. The first two sections contain summary and cross-sectional tables with data on stocks of direct investment abroad and in the Czech Republic broken down by economic activity and territory. The next section presents data on direct investment flows in the reference year. The following section gives time series for FDI stocks and flows since the establishment of the Czech Republic in 1993. The last section includes selected indicators for foreign affiliates in the service sector.

Definition of foreign direct investment

The CNB bases its FDI statistics on the definition of foreign direct investment set by the OECD in harmony with EUROSTAT and the IMF. This definition specifies that:

“Foreign direct investment reflects the objective of obtaining a lasting interest by a resident entity in one economy (“direct investor”) in an entity resident in an economy other than that of the investor (“direct investment enterprise”). The lasting interest implies the existence of a long-term relationship between the direct investor and the enterprise and a significant degree of influence on the management of the enterprise. Direct investment involves both the initial transaction between the two entities and all subsequent capital transactions between them and among affiliated enterprises, both incorporated and unincorporated.” A direct investment enterprise is defined as “an incorporated or unincorporated enterprise in which a foreign investor owns 10 per cent or more of the ordinary shares or voting power of an incorporated enterprise or the equivalent of an unincorporated enterprise.”

A direct investment enterprise includes directly and indirectly owned affiliates. These are divided – according to the investor’s percentage ownership of the ordinary shares or voting power – into subsidiaries (more than 50%), associates (10%–50%) and branches (wholly-owned permanent establishments or offices of a direct investor; land and structures directly owned by a foreign resident; or mobile equipment that operates within an economy for at least one year).

In addition to shares in equity capital, foreign direct investment covers reinvested earnings and other capital, including lending transactions with a direct investor. The composition of direct investment can thus be expressed using the following relationship:

$$\text{Direct investment} = \text{equity capital} + \text{reinvested earnings} + \text{other capital}$$

- Equity capital comprises nonresident investment in the equity of a company and all shares in subsidiaries and associates.
- Reinvested earnings consist of the direct investor’s share (in proportion to direct equity participation) of profit (loss) less dividends paid. The calculation of reinvested earnings can be expressed using the following relationship:

$$\text{Reinvested earnings} = \text{current year’s profit after tax} + \text{retained profit from previous years} - \text{current year’s loss} - \text{accumulated losses from previous years} - \text{dividends}$$

- Other capital covers the borrowing and lending of funds, including debt securities and trade credits, between direct investors and their subsidiaries, associates and branches. These transactions are recorded under intercompany claims and liabilities.

Survey results

CZECH DIRECT INVESTMENT ABROAD

- The volume of direct investment abroad by domestic investors amounted to CZK 27.9 billion (USD 0.7 billion; EUR 0.8 billion) as of 31 December 2000.

Stock of domestic investment abroad as of 31 December 2000

	Equity capital	Reinvested earnings	Equity capital + reinvested earnings	Other capital	Total
CZK billion	28,1	-3,3	24,8	3,1	27,9
USD million	743,4	-87,6	655,8	82,0	737,8
EUR million	801,1	-94,4	706,7	88,4	795,1

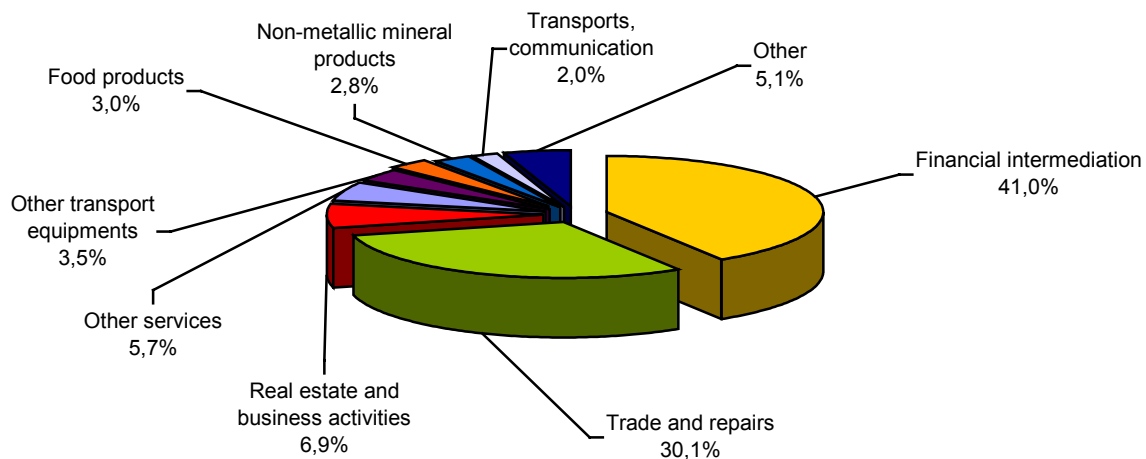

Note: exchange rate 1 USD = 37,813 CZK
1 EUR = 35,090 CZK

The stock of direct investment abroad by domestic investors amounted to CZK 27.9 billion at the end of 2000, an increase of approximately CZK 2.8 billion compared with a year earlier. Most of these funds were invested in the service sector, most notably financial intermediation and wholesale and retail trade and repairs. A comparison of the proportion of the funds channelled into the service sector with the share of investment in the production sector (86.3% and 13.3% respectively) backs the contention that the main reasons for the Czech direct investment are to ensure the sale of Czech goods via trade organisations abroad and to invest free financial funds in tax havens. Investment in the primary sector accounts for a marginal 0.4% of the total.

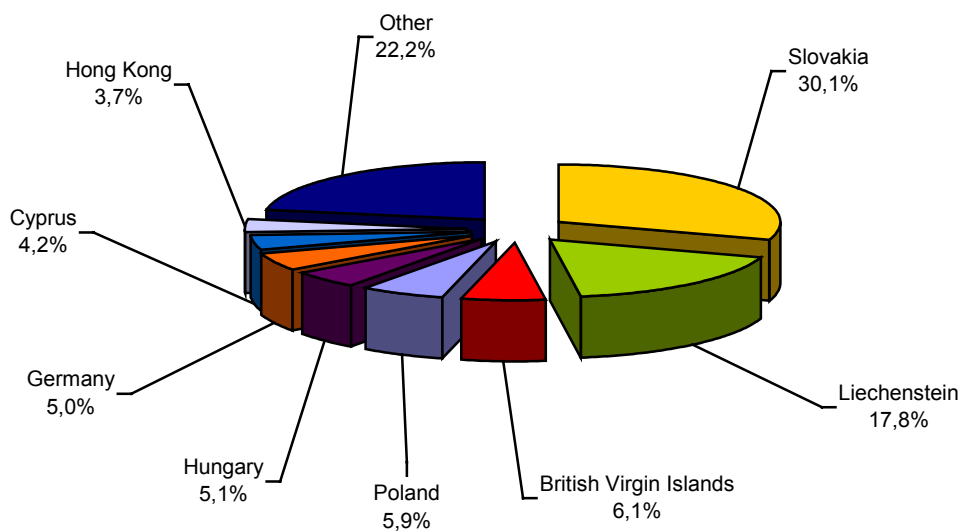

By territory, Slovakia is the long-term largest recipient of domestic investment. Second is Liechtenstein, followed by the British Virgin Islands. Czech entities also made significant investments in Poland, Hungary and Germany.

An analysis of the structure of the direct investment abroad shows that most foreign affiliates are so far loss-making. Given the generally low volume of invested funds, the area of direct investment outflow is characterised by an unsteady territorial and industrial structure. The total volume of funds invested abroad is being reduced substantially by the gradual liquidation of the former enterprises specialised in foreign trade.

FOREIGN DIRECT INVESTMENT IN THE CZECH REPUBLIC

- The volume of foreign direct investment in the Czech Republic amounted to CZK 818.4 billion (USD 21.6 billion; EUR 23.3 billion) as of 31 December 2000.

Stock of foreign investment in the Czech Republic as of 31 December 2000

	Equity capital	Reinvested earnings	Equity capital + reinvested earnings	Other capital	Total
CZK billion	641,4	60,8	702,2	116,2	818,4
USD billion	16,9	1,6	18,5	3,1	21,6
EUR billion	18,3	1,7	20,0	3,3	23,3

Note: exchange rate 1 USD = 37,813 CZK

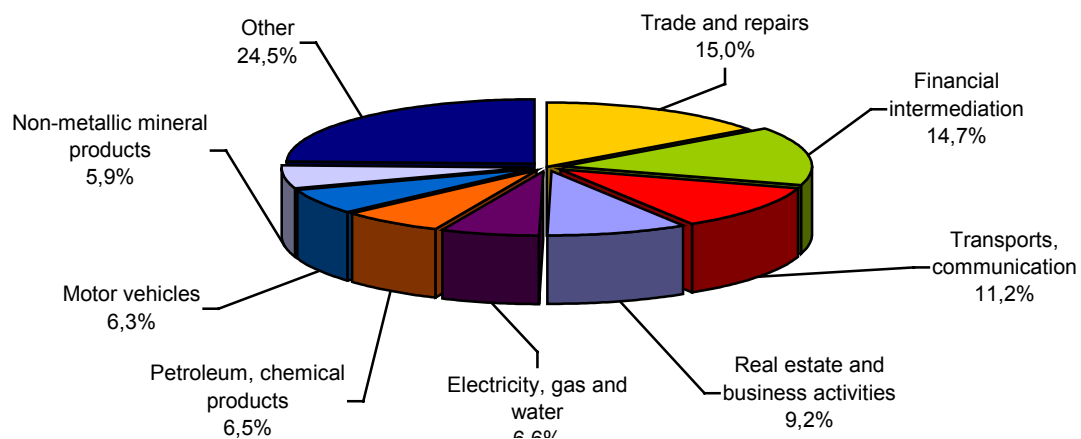

1 EUR = 35,090 CZK

The year-on-year increase of CZK 190 billion in the stock of foreign direct investment in the Czech Republic to CZK 818.4 billion at the end of 2000 confirms the stable rate of FDI inflow into the domestic economy. Privatisation – especially of financial institutions (e.g. Erste Bank purchase of the state-owned stake in Česká spořitelna) – continues to contribute substantially to FDI growth. However, at the same time we are witnessing sizeable capital increases and the establishment of new operating units at companies with long-term foreign equity participation (e.g. Škoda Auto). Less significant in terms of volume was growth in greenfield investment (e.g. Matsushita Television).

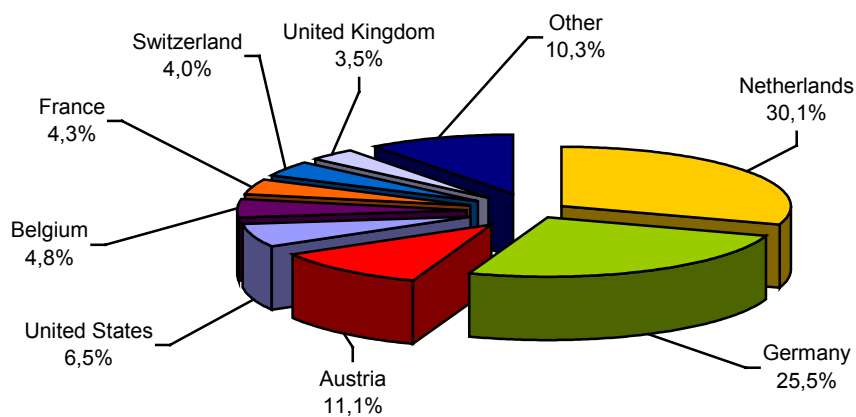

Almost half the total foreign investment comes from the 120 largest investors. However, the foreign equity participation has a much wider base overall, made up of around 3,400 units. This group includes all foreign investors in the Czech Republic except for statistically insignificant small businessmen with a trade licence. Almost one third of the total number of foreign investors come from Germany. Austria follows with one sixth. However, the average volume of investment from these countries is less than CZK 200 billion per investor. The Netherlands, Belgium, the United Kingdom and the USA have the highest average investment volumes per unit.

By economic sector, the service sector remains the largest recipient of foreign direct investment, absorbing almost 60% of the total volume of invested capital, as in 1999. Within the tertiary sector, investment in wholesale and retail trade, financial intermediation and telecommunications predominates as usual. The volumes of funds invested in these industries reflect banking sector privatisation, the development of retail chains and growth in the area of mobile telephone operators. As in the previous year, approximately 38% of the foreign investment was channelled into the production sector, most notably manufacture of oil and other non-metallic mineral products and manufacture of motor vehicles. The remaining 2% of the total was invested in the primary sector, chiefly in mining and quarrying.

Foreign direct investment in the Czech Republic
as of 31 December 2000 - by economic activity

Foreign direct investment in the Czech Republic
as of 31 December 2000 - by country

At the end of 2000 the stock of FDI in the Czech Republic exceeded the estimate published at the start of 2001 by more than CZK 20 billion. The foreign investment structure reveals that investment in equity capital did not reach the originally expected amount. However, inflow of other capital (loans) was higher than expected, as was the volume of reinvested earnings (consisting of foreign investors' shares of company profits). The growth rate of reinvested earnings reflects both higher inflow of foreign capital into profitable industries and rising earnings in existing investments, which, following an initial period of increased investment costs, are stabilising and starting to show profits or reduced losses relative to the previous year. In addition to financial intermediation, the most profitable industries are telecommunications, electricity, gas and water supply, manufacture of motor vehicles, manufacture of mineral products and manufacture of rubber and plastic products.

As regards country of origin, 84% of the investment comes from EU countries. OECD member states account for more than 96% of the investment inflow. There were no major changes to the ranking of the largest investor countries. The only exception is the United Kingdom, whose total capital inflow into the Czech Republic was slightly lower than a year earlier because of relocation of investors into other EU countries. This practice is very frequent, particularly with multinational companies, which optimise their costs by flexible reallocation of capital. The Netherlands and Germany continue to account for the biggest volumes of direct investment in the Czech Republic.
